1			1							1	1	1		1								1	It is a shame that the Holt-Wilsons did not bequeath the land to the Parish as the family has had connections to Redgrave for hundreds of years. I think the price is too high: £20K would be better spent on a village hall which we desperately need. I am sure the Nat Lottery & The Countryside Alliance would help. The Nat Lottery awards are there to fund projects that bring people together & improve communities.	PS: I don't think this survey has reached many pepole. No one I have asked (when working in the shop) had received one. Perhaps a well advertised parish meeting should be held.

1				1						1		1										1	I think £20K is far too much for a piece of land & will take quite a bit of the council's funds for the enjoyment of so few people. Would Holt-Wilson not gift it to the village as he has so many family links?	Having spoken to quite a few people, who use the village shop, I was surprised at how few people knew about the monthly parish newsletter. Therefore the returns you receive from the questionnaire will not be a true representation of the village views. I would suggest you hold and extraordinary meeting so all villagers will be given a chance to show their support/concerns.
